About Copper For Kids

The Copper for Kids campaign was established to raise funds to place and support local children living in foster care with permanent, loving families. There are nearly 3,000 youth in foster care in the Greater Sacramento region.

It's Easy!

- Notify your employees that your company is a Copper for Kids partner and get them involved.
- Collect scrap copper, redeem, and donate the proceeds to Stanford Sierra Youth & Families.
- Your participation will inspire teamwork and a sense of purpose among your employees while helping our community's most vulnerable youth.

Did You Know...

- On average, youth spend 522 days in foster care in the state of California.
- Within 2 years of aging out of foster care more than 50% of these youth will be homeless, in jail, or addicted to drugs and alcohol.

How You Can Help:

By collecting scrap copper from job sites or making a donation, you and your company can make a lasting impact on the life of a child.

Choose Stanford Sierra Youth & Families as the benefiting charity for your next event!
