

Stanford Youth Solutions

Flexible Integrated Treatment (FIT) Program Logic Model

Overarching Goal:

Stanford Youth Solutions' Flexible Integrated Treatment (FIT) program provides individualized mental health services to eligible youth. Using the FIT Core Practice Model and a wide array of evidence based practice techniques that utilize family and individual strengths to build support. The program is flexible to accommodate client's preference in location, frequency, duration, and intensity of services.

