

Stanford Youth Solutions

Wraparound Program Program Logic Model

Overarching Goal:

The Wraparound Program combines a family-centered, strengths-based, needs-driven, team-driven approach with individualized intervention and wellness-focused therapy. Standardized wraparound principles and methods are used to comprehensively serve a families' needs. The goal of the program is to achieve stable permanency for the youth, and a positive environment for all family members.

